

Contents

The authors	ix
Introduction ANNE AUGEREAU AND CHRISTOPHE DARMANGEAT	1
The past of gender and its contemporary stakes	3
1 Prehistoric gender: an instrumentalized narrative ANNE AUGEREAU AND CHRISTOPHE DARMANGEAT	5
2 Gender in the past: trends, dead ends, and developments in the archaeology of gender and women ANNE AUGEREAU AND CHRISTOPHE DARMANGEAT	19
Setting the scene	33
3 Everything you always wanted to know about sex* (*In archaeology) BRUNO BOULESTIN	35
4 Sex and gender among monkeys and apes PASCAL PICQ	45
Past and present biases in hunter-gatherer studies	55
5 Pink Guns: ancient huntresses and modern biases JOHN C. WHITTAKER AND KATHRYN A. KAMP	57

6	Strawman the Hunter	63
	FABIEN ABRAINI
7	Revisiting Upper Paleolithic societies from a gender perspective: limits and possibilities	73
	ESTHER LÓPEZ-MONTALVO AND NICOLAS TEYSSANDIER
	Primitive matriarchy: new insights into an old issue	89
8	What myths tell us about the age of male domination	91
	JULIEN D'HUY AND JEAN-LOÏC LE QUELLEC
9	On the neolithic 'great goddess' in South-East Europe	100
	ESZTER BÁNFFY
	Interpreting data	111
10	The 'lady of caviglione': fantasies and realities	113
	DOMINIQUE HENRY-GAMBIER
11	Giving voice to the dead: the roles and status of neolithic men and women	120
	ALINE THOMAS
12	Blossoming in the shadow: women in western Zhou China (1045–771 BCE)	129
	YAN SUN
13	Occam's battle-axe: some thoughts about responsible archaeology spurred by Bj 581	138
	OREN FALK
	Index	147